Re: House sitting reference

When we were planning our trip to Mexico, Gavin's parents suggested using a house and pet sitter to stay in our home while we were gone and to look after our Chihuahua and 2 cats. They travel extensively and have used house sitters many times before. This seemed like a really good idea since we'd much rather have someone in the house with our pets rather than have to rely upon a neighbor to come by once or twice a day to check up on them.

Kevin and Valerie took care of everything. They were well organized and thorough in their preparation ahead of time and they took really good care of our pets while we were gone. They left everything clean and neat in the house and in really top condition. We couldn't ask for more from anyone. We were able to really relax and enjoy our vacation knowing that they were taking care of our pets. We will definitely recommend them to our friends and would welcome them back to house sit for us in the future.

Sincerely,
