

Kevin and Valerie housesat for us in May 2014. It was a great experience and we felt lucky to have found them. I spent weeks e-mailing and screening various house sitters and many never even returned my e-mails whereas Kevin and Valerie always replied promptly to my e-mails and were also nice enough to send e-mail updates while we were out of town. Prior to the house sit, Kevin sent us a helpful template that we filled out containing pertinent information regarding our home and emergencies, etc. We could tell they had a lot of housesitting experience and knew exactly what questions to ask and what information they needed.

From the minute we met Kevin and Valerie, we knew we could confidently leave town and entrust the care of our house and cat to them. They were very caring and professional and our house was immaculately clean when we returned home. Valerie was so sweet to leave us a delicious homemade chicken salad which really hit the spot after returning home tired from traveling. I would not hesitate to recommend Kevin and Valerie or to utilize their services again in the future.
