Re: Kevin and Valerie

Kevin and Valerie have looked after our house and pet in the past year on several occasions. We have two homes and naturally are absent from one of the two for varying periods of time. They have cared for our homes in the same manner that we do. The home is always left in at least the same condition as when they entered, in many cases, even better condition. They have been there to help supervise the activities of workmen when we have scheduled maintenance to take place in our absence.

We know Kevin and Valerie to be of the highest character and demonstrate values that allow us to trust them completely. They take great care to understand our expectations and always meet or exceed them. We also consider them to be our friends and will continue to utilize their services anytime they are available.

You may have confidence in allowing Kevin and Valerie to house sit for you.

Sincerely

Steve Sjoström
